Art Show Featuring Proposals for Bayside Trail Benches Opens Tomorrow

Posted on September 23, 2010 | Leave a comment

Tomorrow, the Portland Public Arts Committee (PPAC) along with the City of Portland, Portland Public Library and Portland Trails will present an exhibit of design proposals for public seating along the new Bayside Trail. The seventeen bench designs were created in response to a Request for Proposals (RFP) issued last month by the city that called upon artists to generate designs that incorporate the natural and built landscape of the trail as well as the rich cultural attributes of the surrounding neighborhoods. The public is encouraged to view the designs and provide feedback to help the PPAC in their decision-making process. Continue reading →

Upcycled Street Banners!

Posted on July 23, 2010 | Leave a comment

Do you remember the old downtown banners that said Victorian Christmas or Love Portland More? Well, long-time local business owner

Nancy Lawrence at her shop, Portmanteau, is recycling them into bags, totes, and purses. Stop by 11 Free Street or call her at 207.774.7276 for details.
